

Code of Conduct

1. Purpose

This Code of Conduct establishes the ethical principles, professional standards, and expected behavior for all employees, contractors, and temporary staff.

2. Professional Conduct

Employees must act with honesty, integrity, fairness, respect, and professionalism in all business interactions.

3. Equal Opportunity

The company provides equal employment opportunities and prohibits discrimination based on legally protected characteristics.

4. Anti-Harassment

Harassment, bullying, intimidation, retaliation, and abusive behavior are strictly prohibited in the workplace and during work-related activities.

5. Conflicts of Interest

Employees must disclose any personal, financial, or professional interests that could improperly influence business decisions.

6. Confidential Information

Confidential company information, customer data, intellectual property, and trade secrets must be protected from unauthorized disclosure.

7. Gifts and Entertainment

Employees may not accept inappropriate gifts, favors, or hospitality that could create actual or perceived conflicts of interest.

8. Reporting Concerns

Suspected violations of company policy, unethical behavior, fraud, or misconduct should be reported through approved reporting channels without fear of retaliation.

9. Related Policies

Refer to the Employee Handbook, Privacy Policy, Expense Policy, Procurement Policy, and IT Security Policy for additional requirements.

10. Responsibilities

Every employee is responsible for understanding this Code of Conduct, completing required compliance training, and reporting concerns in good faith.
